FOREIGN AID, 1950–53

The tables which follow have been prepared by the staff of the Committee on Foreign Relations in order to assist the committee in its consideration of the proposed Mutual Security Program for 1953. The summary table on page 1 shows several trends which are elaborated in the more complete table which follows. The tables show, for example, that the trend for military assistance to non-European countries has been upward since 1950 as has the trend for economic and technical assistance to non-European countries. Military assistance for Europe, which reached its peak during the current year, will be slightly less for next year if the President's proposals are accepted. Economic and technical assistance for Europe has gradually decreased since 1950 but the President's program for fiscal 1953 calls for a slight increase.

Complete figures for the years prior to 1950 are available in the monthly Foreign Transactions of the United States Government, prepared by the Department of Commerce.

[1] In the fiscal years 1950 and 1951 military-assistance legislation, this area was defined as "North Atlantic Treaty countries."

[2] This figure includes a public-debt transaction of $150,000,000.

[3] In the fiscal year 1950 MDA legislation, this area was defined as "Greece and Turkey." In fiscal year 1951, Iran was shifted to this title from title III. The fiscal years 1950 and 1951 economic-aid legislation was for Arab refugees from Palestine only.

[4] In the fiscal year 1950 MDA legislation, this area was defined as "Iran, Korea, and the Philippines." Iran was subsequently shifted to title II. The fiscal years 1950 and 1951 economic-aid legislation was for the Republic of Korea only.

[5] MDA funds for China were included in the area figure beginning with the fiscal year 1951 appropriation.

[6] In fiscal years 1950 and 1951 legislation, the authorization was for a 5-year extension of the Institute of Inter-American Affairs. The appropriations, however, were made on an annual basis.

[7] $50,000,000 of this amount was authorized by Public Law 897 for emergency relief to Yugoslavia.

[8] These amounts represent the combination of authorized appropriations (Public Law 759) and supplemental appropriations not covered in any authorization act. (Public Law 843.)

[9] In fiscal year 1951, the technical-assistance program was not broken down by area.

Foreign aid authorizations and appropriations, fiscal years 1950–52 and proposed fiscal year 1953, authorization by area and type of aid—Con.
